MISSION

FOUNDERS

ABOUT THE FOUNDERS

Sustain-A-Look is a fashion brand founded by two friends, Sarah and Jessica, who share a passion for sustainability and fashion. Sarah is a textile engineer who has always been interested in the environmental impact of the fashion industry. Jessica is a fashion designer who is passionate about creating beautiful and stylish clothes that are also good for the planet.

Sarah and Jessica met in college, where they both studied fashion design. They quickly bonded over their shared love of fashion and their concern for the environment. After graduating, they decided to start their own fashion brand that would combine their two passions.

Sarah and Jessica are proud to be creating a fashion brand that is making a difference. They believe that everyone has the power to make a positive impact on the planet, and they hope that Sustain-A-Look will inspire others to do the same.

Sarah's Story

Sarah grew up in a small town in the Midwest. She was always interested in science and engineering, and she loved to learn about how things worked. When she was in high school, she took a class on textiles and was immediately hooked. She loved learning about the different types of fabrics and how they were made.

After high school, Sarah went to college to study textile engineering. She learned about the environmental impact of the fashion industry and was determined to find a way to make fashion more sustainable. After graduating, Sarah worked for a few years in the fashion industry, but she was always frustrated by the lack of sustainability in the industry.

Jessica's Story

Jessica grew up in a big city on the East Coast. She was always interested in art and fashion, and she loved to express herself through her clothing. When she was in high school, she loved to design her own clothes. She loved the process of creating something from scratch and seeing her vision come to life.

After high school, Jessica went to college to study fashion design. She learned about the different aspects of fashion design, from sketching and pattern-making to sewing and draping. She also learned about the history of fashion and the different styles that have been popular throughout the years.

After graduating, Jessica worked for a few years as a fashion designer for a major clothing brand. She loved the creative process of designing clothes, but she was frustrated by the lack of sustainability in the fashion industry. She wanted to create clothes that were beautiful and stylish but also good for the planet.

Sustain-A-Look Was Born!

In 2015, Jessica and Sarah decided to start their own fashion brand, Sustain-A-Look. They wanted to create a brand that would use sustainable materials and manufacturing practices. They also wanted to create a brand that was affordable and accessible to everyone.

Sustain-A-Look has been a success since its launch. The brand has been featured in major fashion magazines and worn by celebrities. Together, Sarah and Jessica are creating a fashion brand that is making a difference. They are using their passion for fashion and sustainability to create a brand that is both stylish and good for the planet. We can't wait to inspire you and show you what we're going to do next.
