

ITS-IRVINE

The Transportation Research Immersion Program

ABOUT

The Transportation Research Immersion Program (TRIP) at the Institute of Transportation Studies – University of California, Irvine (ITS-Irvine) is an eight-week paid summer internship for UCI undergraduate students (rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors) to engage in transportation research. Participants are assigned to a specific transportation research project and contribute meaningfully to that project under the guidance and mentorship of an ITS Faculty Associate. No prior research experience is required.

APPLICATIONS

Applications are accepted through May of each year as space remains, and for that reason early submissions are encouraged. To apply, use this link: <https://app.joinhandshake.com/emp/jobs/8797944> or search for job #8797944 at <https://career.uci.edu/handshake/>
