Sorority Newsletter

ISSUE #2

<https://sites.mst.edu/panhellenic/> panhel@mst.edu

The Panhellenic Council is the governing board of the three Panhellenic sororities at S&T and is comprised of members from each chapter. The council helps run the Primary Recruitment process and get more women connected with our chapters. In this issue of our summer newsletter you'll learn more about our sorority community, hear from our chapter's recruitment chairs, and get to hear about our chapters' connected sisterhoods.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Hey y'all!

My name is Rory and it is such a privilege to be among the first to welcome you to Missouri S&T! This next chapter of your life is going to be full of new experiences and meeting new people, which is so exciting and nerve wracking all at once. The people that you meet here will become your best friends, and show up for you in ways you didn't know were possible. I can confidently say that I have found those people through Greek Life.

The women that I have met through my sorority experience lift me up when I'm down, push me to be the best version of myself, celebrate my accomplishments, make me laugh more than anyone, and are there for me whenever I need them. The second I stepped foot in the sorority houses during recruitment I knew that I was about to join an incredibly special group of women, not just from my house but from all 3 of our wonderful chapters.

Sorority women at this campus are some of the most genuine, smart, kind, and funny people you will ever meet. These women are dedicated to excelling in academics, raising money for their philanthropies, building tight-knit sisterhoods, growing as leaders, and serving the community. At a predominantly male school, I can't express how good it feels to constantly be surrounded by so many amazing women. Knowing that every room you walk into will have a familiar and friendly face makes everything better.

Greek Life at S&T is truly special. Our chapters strive to live out their values every day and encourage members to come as they are, not as who they think they need to be. You'll hear it over and over again, but that's because it's true, just be yourself! Our chapters want to get to know the real you, so you can find the chapter that feels the most like home for you. Recruitment isn't as scary as it seems! I absolutely loved getting to talk to girls from every chapter, and build connections that have lasted my entire college experience. Take a deep breath and get excited for the next chapter to begin :)

Peace, Love, Panhellenic,

Rory Anderson

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

CHI OMEGA

Welcome to the exciting journey of primary recruitment!

Hi there! My name is Christy, and I'm honored to serve as the Chapter President of Chi Omega, Eta Kappa. I'm so excited to introduce myself and share a little bit about my story and what makes Chi Omega such a meaningful part of my life in the Panhellenic community.

As Chapter President, I have the privilege of leading our chapter, supporting our members, and upholding the cherished values and purposes of Chi Omega.

My goal is to be a leader, a mentor, and a friend to every sister—creating a space where each of us can grow, thrive, and feel truly at home.

I'll be honest—going through primary recruitment was my original plan. I knew it was something I wanted to do, but I wasn't sure any of the sororities would want me for me. But from the moment I met the women of Chi Omega, everything changed. They were so welcoming and kind that I felt an instant sense of belonging. I found it inspiring to be with everyone, and before I knew it, Chi Omega had become my home away from home. Throughout my life, I often found myself in spaces where I couldn't fully be myself. But Chi Omega gave me something different—an inspirational, uplifting environment where I feel seen, valued, and encouraged to grow. This sisterhood has boosted my confidence and helped shape me into the person I've always aspired to be.

Choosing Chi Omega is truly one of the best decisions I've ever made. The friendships I've built here are unlike any others—rooted in mutual respect, support, and genuine care. This chapter is a place to be yourself, chase your goals, and create memories that last a lifetime.

As you begin your recruitment experience, I encourage you to keep an open mind and heart. Search for the place where you feel most at home—a place where you can be yourself, grow, and contribute. For me, that place is Chi Omega, and I couldn't be more grateful. I can't wait to meet you and share more about what makes this sisterhood so special.

Wishing you the best of luck as you start your recruitment journey!

Christy Johnson

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

KAPPA DELTA

Dear Potential New Member,

Welcome to Primary Recruitment at Missouri S&T! I'm so glad you've taken the first step toward exploring what this campus and our Panhellenic community have to offer. You're about to begin an exciting journey.

With recruitment just around the corner, I wanted to share a little bit about my experience—especially for those of you who might be unsure of what to expect or whether Greek Life is the right fit for you. I remember how it felt to leave home for the first time—saying goodbye to family, stepping away from the support system

I'd known my whole life, and jumping straight into the whirlwind of O-Week activities. It's a lot to take in, and it's totally normal to feel overwhelmed at first.

When I arrived at Missouri S&T, joining a sorority wasn't part of my plan. In fact, I didn't think Greek Life would be for me at all. But as I started meeting new people and allowing myself to be open to new experiences, I realized that sorority life was so much more. I began having genuine conversations with the women around me—many of whom would go on to become my sisters in Kappa Delta and close friends through the Panhellenic Council.

Joining Greek Life has been one of the most rewarding decisions I've made. It's given me a strong, supportive community filled with women who inspire and empower one another. Whether it's late-night study sessions, celebrating milestones, or simply having someone to lean on, the relationships I've built have been a cornerstone of my college experience. I've had the opportunity to grow not only as a student but also as a leader and a friend. Through my sorority, I've taken on leadership roles, strengthened my academics, and become involved in service and philanthropy that allows me to give back in meaningful ways.

The Panhellenic community here is something special. Each of our three chapters brings something unique to campus, but what unites us is the shared commitment to growth, sisterhood, and support. We genuinely care about helping each other succeed—academically, personally, and professionally.

As you prepare for recruitment, remember this: you don't have to have it all figured out. Just be yourself. Let your personality shine, ask questions, and stay open to the connections that might surprise you. This is your time to explore, to find a space where you feel seen and supported, and to step confidently into a new chapter of your life.

On behalf of the entire Panhellenic community, we are so excited to welcome you. You're about to experience something truly unforgettable—and we can't wait to be a part of it.

Go confidently,

Olivia Bryan

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Dear Potential New Member,

Let me introduce myself—my name is Layla Marks, and I'm an incoming junior at Missouri S&T. I'm incredibly honored to serve as the Chapter President of Zeta Tau Alpha.

With recruitment right around the corner, I wanted to take a moment to share a little bit about my own journey and offer some advice as you prepare for this exciting new chapter.

First off, congratulations! Getting to this point has taken a lot of hard work, and that effort doesn't go unnoticed.

You're about to begin an amazing new phase of your life, and although it can feel overwhelming at first, I promise it will be one of the most special.

When I first came to S&T, I thought I was more than ready to leave home and start fresh, but the moment my parents dropped me off, reality hit—I suddenly wasn't so sure. It was scary stepping into the unknown. But I knew I wanted to go through recruitment to find a support system and a sisterhood. I didn't grow up with sisters, but I've always deeply valued the strong women in my life: my mom, my friends, and my family. I knew I wanted those kinds of connections in college as well. I also knew I wanted to grow as a leader, and Greek Life has given me both.

Even with all those hopes going in, I never could've imagined how much Zeta Tau Alpha would come to mean to me. Through ZTA and the Panhellenic community, I've met women who inspire me every day—who share my values, uplift me, and truly feel like family. ZTA has offered me endless opportunities to grow as a leader through my various roles in the chapter, build a larger connection to Zetas nationally, and form lifelong friendships.

Recruitment is about finding the place where you feel most at home and most like your true self. I hope you come into this experience with an open heart and mind. Wherever you end up, I know you'll find a community that empowers you to grow, lead, and thrive.

Wishing you the best as you begin your journey at S&T. We can't wait to meet you!

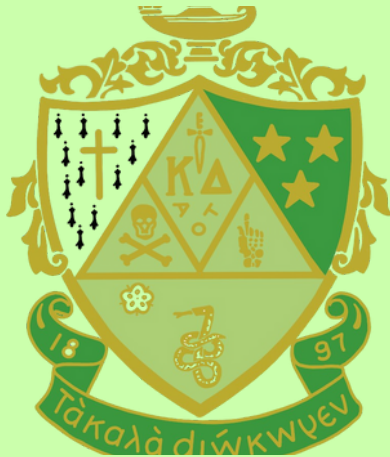

With Zeta Love and Mine,

Layla Marks

FIND YOUR HOME AWAY FROM HOME!

2025

Primary Recruitment is the formal process through which potential new members (PNMs) learn about the different sororities within the Panhellenic Community. It takes place over 3 days and includes multiple rounds where PNMs visit each chapter, meet members and participate in conversations that showcase the values, sisterhood and philanthropy of each sorority. The goal of Primary Recruitment is to match PNMs with a sorority where they feel welcomed, supported, and aligned with the chapter's mission and values.
