

Scott Connolly
Head of Media and Entertainment Innovation
Verizon

Scott Connolly is a seasoned professional with over two decades of experience at the intersection of creativity and technology. Before joining Verizon, he founded and served as president of the emerging technology production company The Astronauts Guild. He has honed his skills as a producer, creative technologist, and storyteller, and is known for his ability to tackle complex technical challenges with ease.

At Verizon, Scott's primary focus is the development of innovative products that empower media industry creators through the use of Verizon's 5G networks and edge computing technology. By leveraging these cutting-edge technologies, he is helping to revolutionize the way that content is created, distributed, and experienced. With his combination of technical expertise and creative vision, Scott is driving continued growth and success in this rapidly evolving industry.
