

BICYCLIST & PEDESTRIAN SAFETY

Fostering Mutual Respect

Mutual respect on our campus is crucial for ensuring the safety of all our community members. Respect others by yielding to pedestrians with the right of way, using designated lanes of travel, and obeying UCI policy 904-13. Sharing the road with other users requires awareness, maintaining appropriate space, and reducing your speed when necessary. Educating yourself and leading by example can help create a safer environment for everyone on our campus.

Bike-Friendly Driver Training: Road Safety

The term “bike-friendly driver” goes beyond mere tolerance for sharing the road; it embodies a proactive commitment to roadway safety and is crucial for promoting a respectful environment for motorists and cyclists. Our Bike Friendly Driver Training, available on Tuesday, February 27, from 1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m., educates drivers on demonstrating respect for cyclist safety through simple actions such as checking blind spots, using caution at intersections, and yielding to those with the right of way. Learn more about how you, as a motorist, can create a more inclusive and enjoyable environment for our cycling community!

Smart Cycling: Promoting Safe Travel for All

Cyclists also share the responsibility of keeping other road users and themselves safe by ensuring they are knowledgeable of riding laws and defensive riding techniques. Whether you use a bike casually or it is part of your daily commute, our Smart Cycling class, available on Thursday, March 7, from 4:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., empowers riders to feel safer every time they ride their bike. By learning the rules of the road and developing essential biking skills, cyclists gain confidence in their ability to ride safely in various environments.
