

Alice White
Director, GBO + Functions Recruiting
Google

Alice White is director of recruiting for Google and leads a team of 250+ recruiters globally focused on all non-technical hiring which includes sales, marketing, and all g&a hiring from entry level to executive level roles. As a part of Alphabet, she has also led all hiring for Google X [the moonshot factory] and DeepMind based in London which are both centers for innovation at Google.

Prior to joining Google in 2018, Alice led hiring for Blizzard Entertainment, Danaher, and Allergan. She has extensive experience building large and small teams for a variety of organizations across multiple industries. Her earlier career included 12 years with Heidrick & Struggles where she worked with a variety of client in consumer packaged goods, financial services and technology.

She was recently named in the top 10 on Talentful's Top 50 Talent Leader in Tech list where she was described as a forward-thinking leader who continually pushes against the status quo to make recruitment more inclusive, more innovative and more fun.

She's passionate about reverse mentoring where senior leaders find more junior mentors to learn from and spends a portion of her time with early career talent to stay connected to what's next, and to keep a pulse on the next generation of leaders entering the workforce.

Alice holds a bachelor of arts from Wheeling Jesuit University in West Virginia.
