

Diana McKenzie
Board Director
MetLife, Change Healthcare, Vertex Pharmaceuticals, and Paradox

As the former chief information officer for both Workday and Amgen, Diana McKenzie possesses a unique blend of corporate governance, digital strategy, enterprise risk, and talent management leadership experience gained from over thirty years of scaling and transforming global businesses spanning the life sciences and software industry with revenues ranging from $3-20B.

Diana serves as a board member at MetLife, Inc., Vertex Pharmaceuticals, Change Healthcare, Inc., and Paradox. In addition, she serves as a Special Advisor at Brighton Park Capital and on Advisory Boards for several promising healthcare technology startups. Passionate about paying it forward, she serves on the board of the T200 Foundation, a global CXO Women in Technology community focused on preparing women in technology for senior leadership and board roles.

Diana has been an active leader in various trade, technology, and government organizations. She has been recognized by the National Diversity Council as one of the nation's Most Powerful Women in Technology and by the San Francisco Business Times on their Forever Influential Women's List.

Diana holds a bachelor's degree in computer information systems from Purdue University.