Dear Humanities Undergraduates,

We hope you are having a safe and restful winter break. As the grade submission deadline approaches we are sure many of you are anxious about your fall quarter grades. Our office would like to share some information about how your academic record may be impacted should you not receive a grade as a result of the UAW strike.

Winter Enrollment

If you are completing a pre-requisite course this fall for a Winter 2023 course, your NR will be treated as a passing grade. If you have not already enrolled in Winter 2023 courses, you may need to contact the department offering the course for authorization if you are working on pre-requisite requirements. Please carefully review the gray information boxes on the schedule of classes and make sure you are not encountering other enrollment issues by reviewing the information linked here.

Academic Counseling

Academic counselors will be available via email until Thursday, December 22, 2022 and will return on Tuesday, January 3, 2023. Please use our Ask a Counselor website form to reach an advisor. The Humanities Office of Undergraduate Study physical office will reopen on the first day of instruction at 9am on Monday January 9, 2023.

Academic Probation

NRs will not be factored into academic probation or academic disqualification review. If you were on an Academic Recovery Plan this fall please wait until you receive an email notification from our office before reaching out regarding your academic status.

Fall Graduates

Degrees cannot be certified and added to official transcripts until all grades are posted. The current degree certification deadline is February 2, 2023. The Registrar’s Office is responsible for issuing physical diplomas. Please review their website to find out how you can receive your diploma: https://www.reg.uci.edu/grades/commencement.html
